Please do away with the morse code requirements to up grade an ameteur radio license. the code test is out dated and we have packet radio, echo link and alot more ways to send infomation that is faster and more reliable. we need more people that can send info in times of disaster or for home land security. by keeping the written test and not having the code test,we can add a lot more radio people ready for any thing that comes up.   thanks greg simo
